DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 6-21 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is unclear how the lower arm is supported by the upper arm only through the first and second pins, since in the invention as disclosed the lower arm is also supported by the upper arm through the nut.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "the mounting bracket" in line 11. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

7. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by US Pat. No. 6,289,761 to Reynolds et al.

Reynolds et al disclose an adjustable pedal with an upper arm 12, lower arm 14, slots 102, 104, drive slot 30, pins 106, 108, screw 54, nut 58, and motor 60, wherein the slots are on opposite sides of the drive slot, are nonparallel, and are inclined. The lower arm is supported only by the first and second pins and the nut.

8. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Pat. No. 4,875,385 to Sitrin.

Sitrin discloses an adjustable control pedal with a pivotable upper arm 36, with first and second guide slots 36g, 36f and a drive slot 36e, a lower arm carrying a pedal 44, a first pin 38e and second pin 38h, one in each guide slot, a screw 46 carried by a mounting bracket 34c, a nut 52 secured to the upper arm, laterally extending through the drive slot to the screw, and a motor 48 to rotate the screw. The guide slots are formed on opposite sides of the drive slot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sitrin.

Sitrian discloses the claimed invention in the embodiment of Figure 3 except for the guide slots being nonparallel. In the embodiment of Figure 1, Sitrin teaches that it is known to utilize nonparallel guide slots 12d, 12e in an upper arm to maintain the mechanical advantage of a pedal throughout its range of adjustment. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make the guide slots of Figure 3 nonparallel, in order to maintain the mechanical advantage of the pedal. The guide slots of both embodiments are inclined.

Double Patenting

11. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 3682

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 and 11-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,289,761 to Reynolds et al. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because it would have been obvious to one of skill in the art to make the slots nonparallel and inclined, and have the lower arm supported only by two pins and a nut, as Figure 4 of Reynolds et al. shows the slots and lower arm in exactly that configuration.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art shows several screw-adjusted pedal assemblies utilizing guide slots and drive slots.
